

Collective Bargaining Agreements (Employment Law Series)

THIS CASEBOOK contains a selection of 186 U. S. Court of Appeals decisions that analyze and discuss issues surrounding collective bargaining agreements. The selection of decisions spans from 2004 to the date of publication. The Supreme Court has explained that a collective bargaining agreement is more than a contract; it is a generalized code to govern a myriad of cases which the draftsmen cannot wholly anticipate and an effort to erect a system of industrial self-government. United Steelworkers of Am. v. Warrior & Gulf Navigation Co., 363 U.S. 574, 578, 580 (1960). CBAs commonly contain grievance procedures, which the Court has emphasized are [a] major factor in achieving industrial peace and lie at the very heart of the system of industrial self-government. Id. at 578, 581. Ortega v. New Mexico Legal Aid, Inc., (10th Cir. 2016). * * * Section 8(a)(1) of the NLRA prohibits an employers interference with, or restraint or coercion of, the rights of employees to organize and join unions, bargain collectively, and engage in certain other concerted activities. Flagstaff Med. Ctr., Inc. v. NLRB, 715 F.3d 928, 930 (D.C. Cir. 2013) (quoting 29 U.S.C. 157, 158(a)(1)). The test for interference, restraint and coercion under section 8(a)(1) is an objective one; an employer violates section 8(a)(1) if, considering the totality of the circumstances, [the employers conduct] has a reasonable tendency to coerce or interfere with [employee] rights. Id. at 930-31 (emphases added) (quoting Tasty Baking Co. v. NLRB, 254 F.3d 114, 124 (D.C. Cir. 2001)); accord DaimlerChrysler Corp. v. NLRB, 288 F.3d 434, 444 (D.C. Cir. 2002). Dover Energy, Inc. v. National Labor Relations Board, (DC Cir. 2016). Accordingly, coercive statements that threaten retaliation against employees for lawfully exercising their rights violate the Act. Tasty Baking, 254 F.3d at 124. The same is true if an employer threatens discipline for engaging in protected activity in the future. See DaimlerChrysler, 288 F.3d at 444 (memo to employee that could be read as threatening discipline for any future request for information violates Act (emphasis added)); Parexel Intl, LLC, 356 N.L.R.B. No. 82, 2011 WL 288784, at *5 (Jan. 28, 2011) ([T]he Board has often held that an employer violates the Act when it acts to prevent future protected activity.). Thus, if an employer makes a statement that an employee reasonably understands to threaten discipline for future protected activity, the employer violates the Act. See DaimlerChrysler, 288 F.3d at 444; see also Exxel/Atmos, Inc. v. NLRB, 147 F.3d 972, 975 (D.C. Cir. 1998) (The employers motive and the actual effect of its statements are irrelevant. Instead, the test is whether the employers statements may reasonably be said to have tended to interfere with employees exercise of their Section 7 rights. (citation and quotation marks omitted)). Dover Energy, Inc. v. National Labor Relations Board, ibid.
