

Loves A Funny Thing

In Loves A Funny Thing, Kim, Candy, and Shania find themselves bit by the love bug. At times, its a horrible feeling and then, its the best thing in the world. They often find themselves caught up doing things they say they would never do, but loves a funny thing and everybody has done something crazy for love. Kim is a successful woman who has anything a man could ask for. She is beautiful, has money, and her only downfall is that her man of many years often looks past what he has at home to get with something on the side. Candy is in a loveless marriage to a man who rather work and make money instead of giving his wife the sex she yearns for. Shania, on the other hand, cant find real love to save her life. What she thinks is real so often turns bitter and cold. Will these ladies figure out why love has failed them so many times or will they find themselves still heartbroken and feeling that love failed them yet again?
