They turn around their hopeless circumstances in this 19th-century tale of the old West, with strong faith and discover authentic men and true love.Meet Beth, she just turned 18 years old, comes from a loving, happy family with five sisters and two beds.With no local work or prospects for a good husband, Beth knows it is time to make her way into the world and relieve some of the financial pressure on her overworked and loving parents. Jokingly, a friend presented her with a crazy idea to marry a successful businessman in the rapidly growing area of northern California who promises her of security. She takes a leap of faith and a long voyage to marry a man she has never seen a picture of or spoken too.Within minutes of meeting Jacob Barrows, the man she is committing to spend the rest of her life with, she discovers a trait this is totally unacceptable, and they are to be married the next day, what does she do?Will San Francisco survive the destruction that is coming their way?Will Beth ever know joy and love again?Come out west to the new Gold Rush of California and rapid, expanding, multi-cultural town of San Francisco. Try and keep up with all business of Mr. Jacob Barrows, the lovely, strong-faithed and patient wife Beth and her five huggy and kissy sisters. And lots of gold!....a story of hope, fear, romance, suspense and true love.....While this book is part of a romance series, it can definitely be read as
