Amuse Me by Lexie Davis
One woman's inspiration comes from the realities of her life, mixed with a little fantasies of her own. With her latest erotic romance due, author Megan Bradshaw develops a bad case of writer's block. In a time crunch she bases her latest story off her last failed relationship adding a little fantasy of her own, making it one hot book. The book becomes a bestseller and gains the attention of Blake Lockland, CEO of Quicksand Books, her publisher. Megan never expected such a strong attraction to one man, much less her publisher, but the instant chemistry sparked a dance of seduction guaranteed to ignite imagination and gain plenty more best sellers. After all, didn't they always say write what you know? But Blake wants a commitment Megan's not sure she's ready to give.
Faithful Beginnings by Lacey Thorn
Book one in The Debtors Daughters Series
Faith has spent her life since the age of nine playing the role of mother to her four younger sisters. Now as her twenty-first birthday approaches she knows that all of that is about to change. Her father never wanted girls and when her mother died during the birth of yet another daughter, he made a vow. If he had to have daughters then he would use them to get what he wanted most sons. So on their twenty-first birthdays they are to be married off to the man of his choice, whether they like it or not. But Faith has bigger dreams than spending her life living in the small town community that sees nothing wrong with her father's dictates. So leaving her sisters behind, she heads down the road, for once more afraid to stay than to face the unknown.
Lust Detector by Ann Cory
Caught again for speeding, Savannah Scott is surprised when Officer Alec

Downs insists she follow him to the police station. Worried she has gone too far with her flirtatious ways on the road, she obeys him and finds herself in a small room handcuffed to a strange looking contraption he calls the Lust Detector.
