

Memorandum on the Subject of the Earl of Elgins Pursuits in Greece (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Memorandum on the Subject of the Earl of Elgins Pursuits in GreeceMr. Harrison had besides studied many years, and to great purpose, at Rome. Lord Elgin consulted him, therefore, on the benefits that might possibly be derived to the arts in this country, in case an opportunity could be found for studying minutely the architecture and sculpture of ancient Greece; and his opinion very decidedly was, that although we might possess exact measurements of the buildings at Athens, yet a young artist could never form to himself an adequate conception of their minute details, combinations, and general effect, without having before him some such sensible representation of them as might be conveyed by casts.About the PublisherForgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
