

The Awakening (werewolf romance) (The Breeding Prophecy Book 1)

ONE INNOCENT WOMAN HOLDS THE POWER
Cassidy doesn't know it yet, but her life is about to change. Raised human, Cassidy has no idea that she's an integral part of the foretold Lycan Breeding Prophecy and two rival clans will tear each other apart to possess her. One minute she's studying for her college exams and the next she's thrust into a world she didn't even know existed and honestly, she doesn't want anything to do with it. The only problem? There's no stopping what destiny has already set in motion. She has to embrace the change or the world will die with her. Can Cassidy survive what's coming for her? Enjoy the first installment of the six-part serial for FREE and find out!

Excerpt: She needs meat, a sharp voice sounded from a distance. She will not survive the mating if she does not eat. She is in no shape to mate, Koris, another voice snapped. She knows nothing of her heritage and has had no one to teach her our ways. That is unfortunate, but the fact remains her body knows what it needs. Her temperature is elevated, her skin is beaded with sweat, and her breasts are enlarged. The time is now. Cassidy struggled to regain consciousness and opened her eyes blearily to find two men—no, check that, two very large men—standing over her. They wore all black and seemed almost indistinguishable from one another. Their muscles bulged from beneath tight T-shirts and narrowed to lean hips. Hanks of black hair, almost too long to be fashionable, dusted strong shoulders and impossibly dark eyes stared into her soul. Oh, and she was lying on her bed, naked. Oh my God, she managed to squeak as she attempted to cover her breasts but she felt weak as a kitten. Help me, please! I need to go to the hospital, she implored the handsome strangers, hoping for some shred of decency in either of them. Please, I'm very sick. I think I might be dying. They ignored her plea but the one named Koris shot the other a knowing look, saying, Prop her up. She will need sustenance, before leaving the room. Hush, Cassandra, the other said, coming to sit beside her. My name is Jandin. We are here to help you. Her body had begun to shake. H-how? Whats wrong with me? He smoothed her damp hair from her brow with a surprisingly gentle hand. What do you remember of your childhood? he asked. What? Why are you asking me about my childhood? Didnt you hear me? Im very sick. I think I have food poisoning or something. I could die if I dont get to a hospital! Youre right. You could die. But there is nothing that humans can do for you. Humans? Are you crazy? she asked fearfully, tightening her grip across her breasts. Why am I naked? Because you tore your clothes off, he answered.
