

The Prophet

AE George Russell wrote: I do not think the East has spoken with so beautiful a voice since Gitanjali of Rabindranath Tagore as in The Prophet of Kahlil Gibran, who is artist as well as poet. I have not seen, for years, a book more beautiful in its thought, and when reading it I understand better than ever before what Socrates meant in the Banquet when he spoke of the beauty of thought which exercises a deeper enchantment than the beauty of form... I could quote from every page, and from every page I could find some beautiful and liberating thought. Includes twelve illustrations which were reproduced from original drawings by the author.
